Accused is an anthology drama in which each stand-alone episode follows a different character as they make their way to court to hear whether they've been found guilty of a crime. It opens in a courtroom on the accused, with viewers knowing nothing about their crime or how they ended up on trial. Told from the defendant's point of view through flashbacks, Accused depicts how an ordinary person gets caught up in an extraordinary situation, ultimately revealing how one wrong turn leads to another, until it's too late to turn back. The funeral of Charles Henry Topping on Manhattan’s Upper East Side would have been a minor affair (his two-hundred-word obit in The New York Times notwithstanding) but for the presence of one particular mourner: the notoriously reclusive author A. N. Dyer, whose novel Ampersand stands as a classic of American teenage angst. But as Andrew Newbold Dyer delivers the eulogy for his oldest friend, he suffers a breakdown over the life he’s led and the people he’s hurt and the novel that will forever endure as his legacy. He must gather his three sons for the first time in many years—before it’s too late. So begins a wild, transformative, heartbreaking week, as witnessed by Philip Topping, who, like his late father, finds himself caught up in the swirl of the Dyer family. First there’s son Richard, a struggling screenwriter and father, returning from self-imposed exile in California. In the middle lingers Jamie, settled in Brooklyn after his twenty-year mission of making documentaries about human suffering. And last is Andy, the half brother whose mysterious birth tore the Dyers apart seventeen years ago, now in New York on spring break, determined to lose his virginity before returning to the prestigious New England boarding school that inspired Ampersand. But only when the real purpose of this reunion comes to light do these sons realize just how much is at stake, not only for their father but for themselves and three generations of their family.

The comedy series follows a group of local Animal Control workers whose lives are complicated by the fact that animals are simple, but humans are not. McHale will play Frank Shaw, an opinionated, eccentric Animal Control officer who may not have gone to college but is still the most well-read person in the room. A former cop, Frank tried to expose corruption in his department, but his efforts got him fired, which may explain why he's so cynical and curmudgeonly. He has an almost superhuman ability to understand animals. Humans...not so much. (June 17 - August 20, 2024)

Band is a diverse ensemble of passionate teens who navigate the chaos of adolescence while finding unity and belonging in their school's marching band. Star player Axel (Garcia), his fiercely loyal best friend Sasha (Eilers), sexy newcomer Simon (Fitzalan), heartthrob drummer Evan (Hall), friends, and lovers march under the watchful eye of their fearless leader Cole (Hickey) and his right-hand Zadie (Adams). As the adults navigate their personal lives and school politics while hiding secrets of their own, they will, alongside their students, ultimately confront their individual struggles and shared dreams. Amidst the highs and lows of coming of age in the 21st century, our teens will learn that their greatest strength lies in embracing differences, forging an unbreakable bond of chosen family and finding a hopeful tune of unity in a world of contrasts.

The psychosexual sci-fi drama, is set amidst a family holiday at a tropic resort, where Arthur (Quaid), a guilt-free bon viveur, surprises everyone by bringing his new beautiful and enigmatic girlfriend, Ivy (Debicki). Ivy's arrival and her odd behavior throws the already delicate dynamics off balance with Arthur and his daughters. Connie (Beetz) is still recovering from the trauma of a recent miscarriage and her older half-sister Laura can be a bit suffocating in her efforts to support her. One evening, after Connie gets very drunk, Ivy quietly reveals to her that she's actually an alien visiting Earth. While Laura is quick to write Ivy off as an aspiring trophy wife, Ivy's strangeness makes Connie, and with her the audience, question if she could actually be an alien. Before she knows it, Connie is being seduced by Ivy and invited to follow her back to her planet, an invitation that sound more seductive as the family drama heightens. But is Ivy really an alien? Or is Connie having a mental breakdown? Connie may have to take a leap of faith.

The drama follows the lives of five underprivileged black students from inner-city London who win scholarships to an elite boarding school. Stepping out of the urban metropolis and into a world they can only describe as something out of Harry Potter, our leads will experience the highs and lows of boarding school: learning about themselves, their identity and what life on the other side looks like - which they discover is nothing like life in zone 3. From fun and independence to pressure and competition, first crushes, forging friendships and making enemies, Boarders will look at the experience of going to a top public school from a unique perspective. These kids may be outsiders but they're determined to prove themselves - and shake things up along the way. The new boarders have arrived.

Penelope Featherington (Nicola Coughlan) has finally given up on her long-held crush on Colin Bridgerton (Luke Newton) after hearing his disparaging words about her last season. She has, however, decided it's time to take a husband, preferably one who will provide her with enough independence to continue her double life as Lady Whistledown, far away from her mother and sisters. But lacking in confidence, Penelope's attempts on the marriage mart fail spectacularly. Meanwhile, Colin has returned from his summer travels with a new look and a serious sense of swagger. But he's disheartened to realize that Penelope, the one person who always appreciated him as he was, is giving him the cold shoulder. Eager to win back her friendship, Colin offers to mentor Penelope in the ways of confidence to help her find a husband this season. But when his lessons start working a little too well, Colin must grapple with whether his feelings for Penelope are truly just friendly. Complicating matters for Penelope is her rift with Eloise (Claudia Jessie), who has found a new friend in a very unlikely place, while Penelope's growing presence in the ton makes it all the more difficult to keep her Lady Whistledown alter ego a secret. Set and filmed in Liverpool, This City is Ours is the story of Michael Kavanagh (Nelson-Joyce), a man who for all of his adult life has been involved in organized crime, working for his friend and the gang leader Ronnie Phelan (Bean). When Ronnie begins to hint at retirement, Michael too begins to imagine another life. Because, “for the first time in his life, Michael is in love. For the first time in his life, he sees beyond the day-to-day, he sees a future: something to win and something to lose – Diana Williams (Onslow).” This City is Ours is the story of Michael and Diana’s love affair, set against the disintegration of Michael’s crime gang. For years, together with Ronnie, Michael has successfully been bringing cocaine into the City and beyond, directly from Columbia; but when a shipment goes missing, he knows their Kingdom is under attack. This City is Ours explores what happens when Ronnie’s son Jamie decides he wants to inherit their kingdom and that there is no longer a place for Michael at the table. Both Michael and Jamie have bold ideas to modernize the gang and they will battle for control of it. But Michael’s biggest battle will be to save the woman he loves and the child he has always wanted.

Code of Silence introduces us to Deaf catering worker, Alison Woods. She’s struggling to make ends meet, juggling two jobs, in a police canteen and a local bar, while also doing her best to support her Deaf mum, Julie. When DC Ashleigh Francis calls on Alison to lip read the conversations of some dangerous criminals, she is plunged into a new and exhilarating world. Alison’s interpretation of the gang’s clandestine meetings quickly become key to unlocking the police investigation. But Alison’s feelings about the case become complicated when she finds herself drawn to Liam, one of the main suspects. Alison knows she’s putting herself at risk by agreeing to work with the police, and when things threaten to spill over into her personal life, she knows she should step away. But Alison can’t let go.

Criminal is described as an interlocking universe of crime stories. Criminal tells the interweaving saga of several generations of families tied together by the crimes and murders of the past. Jenkins will play Ivan, Leo's dad's best friend, who has always been an uncle figure to him. He used to be a robber and criminal, but is now currently suffering from dementia. Leo is trying to care for him but realizes he's more work than he can handle. Arjona plays Greta, a sharp-tongued top-level car thief and driver and the widowed mother of Angie. Ever since her husband died in a bank job gone bad, Greta has been battling with herself about how to escape the only life she's ever known – and the only place she's ever thrived. The problem is, she's good at this. She's looking for a big score, a lump of money she can use like a gun to shoot her and Angie out of this life and into another one.

Set adrift by his wife's suicide and struggling to keep a grip on reality, Bunny Munro does the only thing he can think of: with his young son in tow, he hits the road. To his son, waiting patiently in the car while his father peddles beauty wares and quickies to lonely housewives in the south of England, Bunny is a hero, larger than life. But Bunny himself, haunted by what might be his wife's ghost, seems only dimly aware of his son's existence. When his bizarre trip shades into a final reckoning, when he can no longer be sure what is real and what is not, Bunny finally begins to recognize the love he feels for his son. And he sees that the revenants of his world—decrepit fathers, vengeful ghosts, jealous husbands, and horned psycho-killers—are lurking in the shadows, waiting to exact their toll. Within the Directorate General for External Security (DGSE), a department called the Legends Office (LBDL) trains and directs remotely the so-called clandestine agents, immersed in foreign countries, whose mission is to identify people likely to be recruited as sources of information. Operating in the shadows, “under legend”, that is to say under a fabricated identity from scratch, they live for many years in permanent concealment. Guillaume Debailly, alias Paul Lefebvre, alias Malotru, returns from a six-year clandestine mission in Syria, but in violation of security rules, he does not seem to have abandoned his legend and the identity under which he lived in Damascus. His love affair with the Syrian Nadia El Mansour will seriously complicate things and in particular lead him to play a double game between the DGSE and the CIA.

With Robson Green returning as DI Geordie Keating and Tom Brittney as Grantchester’s Reverend Will Davenport, the series resumes in 1958 with the crime fighting duo renewing their partnership to solve new cases. The eighth season of Grantchester will range from Speedway to spies, exploring the lives of invisible women and the very visible problems caused by Leonard’s new vocation which may, once again, find him battling the law. Exploring faith, forgiveness, and redemption – this explosive series tests Will and Geordie to the limit. Will is the happiest he’s ever been but his world will be rocked by a terrible accident. He’s always preached the word of a compassionate God – but how can he now, when his despair leads him on a dangerous downward spiral? Geordie has found a new contentment in his relationship with Cathy, but when they are both confronted with shocking announcements at work their happiness is threatened. As Mrs C, Leonard, Jack and Daniel rally around, both Will and Geordie find themselves in unfamiliar, emotional waters and murder is always around the corner.

Set in 1986, Gravesend follows Benny, a soldier in the Colezzo crime family who is torn between the good that his devout Catholic parents taught him and the life his Mafioso cousin Charlie (Chris Tardio) showed him. Benny chooses to follow in Charlie’s footsteps and in turn, denounces his father. In Season 2, viewers learned who was behind the hit against Benny Zerletta (William DeMeo) in the church. Also, in a twist, Benny headed to Miami.

Based on the life of Muhammad Ali. Growing up in the South, surrounded by racial bigotry and discrimination, Ali fought not just for a living, but also for respect and rewards far more precious than money or glory. He was named Sportsman of the Century by Sports Illustrated and the BBC. Ali redefined what it meant to be an athlete by giving hope to millions around the world and inspiring us all to fight for what is important to us. This is a multifaceted portrait of Muhammad Ali only he could render: sports legend, unapologetic anti-war advocate, outrageous showman and gracious goodwill ambassador, fighter, lover, poet, and provocateur, and an irresistible force to be reckoned with.

The series tells the heart-breaking story of Ann Ming's 15-year-long battle for her daughter Julie's murderer to face justice. Ming's daughter was found in the bathroom of her house in 1990, 80 days after she had disappeared, and the man who killed her was twice acquitted following mistrials before eventually admitting to the murder. The archaic double jeopardy law meant he couldn't be tried twice for the same crime and it is this law that Ming and her family successfully overturned. (aka "FOR THE LOVE OF JULIE")

In the middle of the night, in a house on a quiet street in suburban Minneapolis, intruders silently murder Luke Ellis' parents and load him into a black SUV. The operation takes less than two minutes. Luke will wake up at The Institute, in a room that looks just like his own, except there's no window. And outside his door are other doors, behind which are other kids with special talents - telekinesis and telepathy - who got to this place the same way Luke did: Kalisha, Nick, George, Iris, and 10-year-old Avery Dixon. They are all in Front Half. Others, Luke learns, graduated to Back Half, "like the roach motel," Kalisha says. "You check in, but you don't check out." In this most sinister of institutions, the director, Mrs. Sigsby, and her staff are ruthlessly dedicated to extracting from these children the force of their extranormal gifts. There are no scruples here. If you go along, you get tokens for the vending machines. If you don't, punishment is brutal. As each new victim disappears to Back Half, Luke becomes more and more desperate to get out and get help. But no one has ever escaped from the Institute. (August 12 - November 28, 2024)

Upon the discovery of her junior high diary, with all her dreams for the future, Lolly Blanchard (34), who runs her family's struggling diner, can't believe how her life has turned out. Her dad won't let her change anything at the diner, her sister wants to move to Bali, and her ex-boyfriend Rory Shaw is suddenly back in town, making things awkward. Then her eccentric Aunt Gert (80) gifts her with three magical lemon drops, telling Lolly if she eats one and names one of her unfulfilled dreams aloud, she'll spend an entire day in the version of her life if she had followed that dream. A final fourth drop will allow her to choose one of those lives permanently if she wants it. With her first lemon drop, Lolly spends a day running her own café as she'd always imagined, with the second she chooses a day with her late mom, and with the third she spends a day with Rory, if she had never ended things with him. As Lolly's perspective changes with each experience, she must face the messy reality of any path she might have taken and choose the one that helps her become the person she wants to be.

We live in a world where we've never seen a monster, and The Magic Order is the reason we sleep safely in our beds. Magic meets the mob in The Magic Order, as five families of magicians-sworn to protect our world for generations-must battle an enemy who's picking them off one by one. By day, they live among us as our neighbors, friends, and co-workers, but by night, they are the sorcerers, magicians, and wizards that protect us from the forces of darkness...unless the darkness gets them first.

Monsanto tells the true story of young, untried attorney Brent Wisner (Powell), who takes on a seemingly insurmountable case against the giant U.S. chemical company Monsanto on behalf of Dewayne "Lee" Johnson (Mackie). Johnson used the company's best-known product, Roundup, a wildly financially successful weed and grass pesticide killer, as part of his job as a high school groundskeeper and is now suffering illnesses. Dern will play a Monsanto's chief toxicologist who, of course, testifies that the product is safe.

Welcome to Mont-Rouge, a splendid isolated town in New Brunswick. As we celebrate the end of the tourist season, the savage and inexplicable murder of a man involved in the community disrupts this charming, uneventful village. When Tim Coffman (Frank Schorpion) is found dead near Murray Manor, where he has just invested a huge sum, the community of Mont-Rouge is in shock. Friendly local police officer Manon Daigle (Karene Chiasson) is asked to assist Moncton homicide inspector Luc Doiron (Normand Daneau). Very quickly, their opposing personalities make the investigation difficult. The crime has enormous repercussions on the Manor, the economic engine of the village. Tim's owner and ex-partner, Agnès Murray (Monique Spaziani), is so dismayed that she stops working. His daughter Sandrine Pelletier (Tanya Brideau), who is acting as interim manager, is crumbling under pressure but tries as best she can to offer her wealthy clientele good hotel services. The Manoir sees its future customers cancel their stay. As this is an almost perfect crime, the clues are few and far between. Manon and Luc must lift all the stones and access what is darkest in Mont-Rouge. Its residents are losing their splendor. Starting with the victim herself, who has caused so much harm to so many people that the pool of suspects continues to grow.

Set amidst the breathtaking beauty of Oxford, this sparkling debut novel tells the unforgettable story about a determined young woman eager to make her mark in the world and the handsome man who introduces her to an incredible love that will irrevocably alter her future. American Ella Durrans has had the same plan for her life since she was thirteen: Study at Oxford. At 24, she's finally made it to England on a Rhodes Scholarship when she's offered an unbelievable position in a rising political star's presidential campaign. With the promise that she'll work remotely and return to DC at the end of her Oxford year, she's free to enjoy her Once in a Lifetime Experience. That is, until a smart-mouthed local who is too quick with his tongue and his car ruins her shirt and her first day. When Ella discovers that her English literature course will be taught by none other than that same local, Jamie Davenport, she thinks for the first time that Oxford might not be all she's envisioned. But a late-night drink reveals a connection she wasn't anticipating finding and what begins as a casual fling soon develops into something much more when Ella learns Jamie has a life-changing secret. Immediately, Ella is faced with a seemingly impossible decision: turn her back on the man she's falling in love with to follow her political dreams or be there for him during a trial neither are truly prepared for. As the end of her year in Oxford rapidly approaches, Ella must decide if the dreams she's always wanted are the same ones she's now yearning for.

A prequel to the long-running procedural, about young Leroy Jethro Gibbs. Narrated by Mark Harmon, NCIS: Origins begins in 1991, years prior to the events of NCIS, and follows a young Gibbs. In the series, Gibbs starts his career as a newly minted special agent at the fledgling NCIS Camp Pendleton office where he forges his place on a gritty, ragtag team led by NCIS legend Mike Franks. Molino will play Special Agent Lala Dominguez, a former Marine who navigates her 1990s male-dominated field with a steely resolve and a dark sense of humor. When a tormented Leroy Jethro Gibbs joins her team, the ensuing story between these two enigmatic outsiders is filled with sparks and turns that will keep the audience guessing. Schmid's Special Agent Mike Franks is a proud Texan who all but showers in his cowboy boots and sports a perfectly coiffed mustache that's as thick as his skin. As showcased on NCIS, Franks is a born leader with an unwavering moral compass who's determined to find justice by any means necessary.

In tiny Merinac, Kansas, Chicken Mimi's and Chicken Frannie's have spent a century vying to serve up the best fried chicken in the state--and the legendary feud between their respective owners, the Moores and the Pogociellos, has lasted just as long. No one feels the impact more than thirty-five-year-old widow Amanda Moore, who grew up working for her mom at Mimi's before scandalously marrying Frank Pogociello and changing sides to work at Frannie's. Tired of being caught in the middle, Amanda sends an SOS to Food Wars, the reality TV restaurant competition that promises $100,000 to the winner. But in doing so, she launches both families out of the frying pan and directly into the fire. . . The last thing Brooklyn-based organizational guru Mae Moore, Amanda's sister, wants is to go home to Kansas. But when her career implodes, helping the fading Mimi's look good on Food Wars becomes Mae's best chance to reclaim the limelight--even if doing so pits her against Amanda and Frannie's. Yet when family secrets become public knowledge, the sisters must choose: Will they fight with each other, or for their heritage?

A young mother unsatisfied with her seemingly perfect suburban life begins a torrid, erotic affair with the monster in her son's closet — a sexy, doesn't-give-a-fuck boogeyman called the Nightbeast. Every night, Amy escapes into a dream-logic realm beyond the closet door where she can live, party, and fuck the way she used to... without responsibility or repercussion. But Amy soon learns that there's no such thing as a harmless affair, even with an imaginary creature, as her two worlds increasingly begin to collide — with unexpected consequences for her family.

The story follows Oliver (Jogia) and Ciara (Cameron), who, after meeting randomly in a supermarket, fall for each other fast, and dangerously hard. 56 days later, homicide investigators arrive at Oliver's apartment to find an unidentified body — brutally murdered and intentionally decomposed. Did he kill her? Did she kill him? Intercutting between an intense single day in the present investigation and the twisted trajectory of the young lovers' affair in the past, the series is both a crime story and an erotic, psychological thriller. The biopic will focus on a break-in that may or may not have occurred at the house of author Philip K. Dick (Giamatti), whose work inspired 'Blade Runner' and 'Total Recall.' Only Apparently Real centers on a break-in at Dick's house that took place in the early '70s. He was in the midst of his fourth divorce, trying to give up amphetamines, battling writer's block and possibly being spied on by the United States government. Then his house was ransacked, his safe blown open and his manuscripts were stolen. But then again, maybe they weren't and maybe there was never a break-in. The story also tackles what Dick himself described as a tragic theme that pervaded his life: The death in infancy of his twin sister, Jane, and the reenactment of it over and over again. Dick attributed many of his psychological issues and personal life challenges to her death, including his attachment anxieties.

Outrageous is the true story of six sisters who refused to play by the rules and whose often-scandalous lives made headlines around the world. Set against the gathering storm clouds of the 1930s, Outrageous will bring the full, uncensored story of the Mitford sisters to the screen for the first time – a story of family betrayals, public scandal, political extremism, personal heartache and even imprisonment. Refusing to conform to a world order that was collapsing around them, the show explores how and why these women were so ahead of their time – and what drove them to take their very different, complex and often extreme paths. A family saga like no other, this is the Mitford's as they really were: unapologetic, outrageous and utterly human.

The story follows Lorna, a self-made and successful businesswoman from South London who has worked hard to be where she is - and best friend Juliet, an impressive stay at home mother (recently turned author) born into the privileged gated community they both call home. Daughters Grace and Allegra are BFFs and life is to die for. A safe haven for the super-rich and their little darlings, Primrose Estate is a place where bad things never happen... Until, that is, Grace and Allegra are implicated in a shocking scandal at their exclusive private school and Juliet and Lorna are forced to take sides, pushing their friendship to the extreme. As toxic secrets and lies ripple through the heart of the idyllic town - and a teenager goes missing - cracks within the community threaten to reveal the elitist ugliness and betrayal beneath. Because it turns out that people are not who they say they are... especially the one per cent. Set in a private enclave in the Home Counties, this is a multi-generational show following the teenagers, their mothers and the wider community. A provocative and deliciously honest look at mother/daughter relationships in a haze of social media, hidden apps and peer pressure that asks: how far will we go to protect our children? And just how much do teenage girls know about the women raising them? i the apple doesn't fall far from the tree, then who is leading these girls astray? "Like mother like daughter" rings loudly in a complex world, and danger is never far from the surface - even in a perfect town. (May 2024 - September 2024 | aka "VIRGINIA")

The multi-camera comedy, centers on a legendary talk radio host and happily divorced "Poppa" (Damon Wayans) who has his point of view challenged at work when a new female co-host is hired, and at home where he finds himself still parenting his adult son (Damon Wayans Jr.), a brilliant dreamer who is trying to pursue his passion while being a responsible father and husband. Atkins plays Dr. Ivy Reed, an intelligent, savvy and bold, Ivy is the host of the "Ask Doctor Reed" radio show where she gives helpful advice to listeners with a modern approach on life. When the network wants to modernize Poppa's outdated routine, Ivy joins him as a co-host; she quickly dismantles his old-school arguments, and a new rivalry is instantly born. Jackson plays Nina, Junior's loving, real and detail oriented wife. She is his biggest supporter, but his biggest motivator as well. She doesn't want Junior to give up his dream, but hopes he can focus more on work in the meantime – she's already raising two kids and can't have him acting like a third. Even with all the distractions and family drama, Nina and Junior always make a great team.

Ryland Grace (Gosling) is the sole survivor on a desperate, last-chance mission - and if he fails, humanity and the Earth itself will perish. Except that right now, he doesn't know that. He can't even remember his own name, let alone the nature of his assignment or how to complete it. All he knows is that he's been asleep for a very, very long time. And he's just been awakened to find himself millions of miles from home, with nothing but two corpses for company. His crew-mates dead, his memories fuzzily returning, he realizes that an impossible task now confronts him. Alone on this tiny ship that's been cobbled together by every government and space agency on the planet and hurled into the depths of space, it's up to him to conquer an extinction-level threat to our species. And thanks to an unexpected ally, he just might have a chance. (Release Date: March 20, 2026)

Hot Flush centers on the lives of five women of a certain age who come together to create a makeshift, butt-of-the-joke punk-rock band in order to enter a talent contest, but when they rehearse together they suddenly discover that they have a lot more to say than they ever imagined, and this is the way to say it. The six-part drama, follows the women as they deal with demanding jobs, grown-up children who still eat up their energy, dependent parents, husbands who've let them down and the menopause. The band becomes a catalyst for change in the women's lives, and it's going to make them question everything. As the story (set in Hebden Bridge, West Yorkshire) progresses, it's more than music that binds them; a deeply potent, long-buried secret connects Kitty and Beth, the two unlikely creative masterminds behind the band, and it's a secret that could tear everything apart.

In an intriguing tale of mystery and espionage set in the stately home of Chimneys, Sir Oswald and Lady Coote's season-long party turns tragic with the death of Gerry Wade, an invitee known for his oversleeping habit. His death, initially surrounded by a playful joke involving eight alarm clocks, spirals into a complex investigation when one clock goes missing, leading to the discovery of Wade's murder by chloral poisoning. The plot thickens as Lord Caterham and Lady Eileen "Bundle" Brent delve into the mystery, uncovering connections to the clandestine Seven Dials club, a secretive group involved in government espionage. The narrative weaves through deceptive appearances, revealing Superintendent Battle as the enigmatic "Number Seven" and exposing Jimmy Thesiger's criminal undertakings with Loraine Wade. In a dramatic finale at the Seven Dials club, the true extent of Thesiger's treachery is unveiled, culminating in his arrest and the resolution of the case. The story concludes with justice served, Bundle Brent taking her place in the Seven Dials, and her eventual marriage to Bill Eversleigh, tying together romance with the thrill of detective work.

A story about the end of innocence, and the perilous passage from adolescence into adulthood, set in a vibrantly fictionalized Los Angeles in 1981 as a serial killer begins targeting teenagers throughout the city. Seventeen-year-old Bret is a senior at the exclusive Buckley prep school when a new student arrives with a mysterious past. Robert Mallory is bright, handsome, charismatic, and shielding a secret from Bret and his friends even as he becomes a part of their tightly knit circle. Bret's obsession with Mallory is equaled only by his increasingly unsettling preoccupation with the Trawler, a serial killer on the loose who seems to be drawing ever closer to Bret and his friends, taunting them—and Bret in particular—with grotesque threats and horrific, sharply local acts of violence. The coincidences are uncanny, but they are also filtered through the imagination of a teenager whose gifts for constructing narrative from the filaments of his own life are about to make him one of the most explosive literary sensations of his generation. Can he trust his friends—or his own mind—to make sense of the danger they appear to be in? Thwarted by the world and by his own innate desires, buffeted by unhealthy fixations, he spirals into paranoia and isolation as the relationship between the Trawler and Robert Mallory hurtles inexorably toward a collision.

Kara Zor-El has seen some epic adventures over the years, but she now finds her life without meaning or purpose. Here she is, a young woman who saw her planet destroyed and was sent to Earth to protect a baby cousin who ended up not needing her. What was it all for? Wherever she goes, people only see her through the lens of Superman's fame. Just when Supergirl thinks she's had enough, everything changes. An alien girl seeks her out for a vicious mission. Her world has been destroyed, and the bad guys responsible are still out there. She wants revenge, and if Supergirl doesn't help her, she'll do it herself, whatever the cost. Now a Kryptonian, a dog, and an angry, heartbroken child head out into space on a journey that will shake them to their very core. (Release Date: June 26, 2026)

When students all flee an elite university in Vermont for winter break, the locals and faculty hunker down for their favorite time of year - the annual Christmas Bar Trivia Tournament! For Celeste, a Type-A astronomy professor, this event combines the magic of Christmas with her greatest comfort in life: knowing the right answer. But when her colleague has to drop out of the tournament to do a month-long lecture tour in Asia, Celeste's team is forced to adopt Max, the football team's cheeky new offensive coordinator. To Celeste, Max seems like nothing more than a grown up class clown - though he brings an undeniable knowledge of sports trivia (a category their team has always fallen short in). Initial clashes between the two eventually turn into mutual appreciation as the team enjoys scavenger hunts on campus, decorating the international house with Christmas lights, baking Christmas cookies, and advancing toward the championship trivia game. Celeste can't help but delight in Max's infectious enthusiasm, love for all things Christmas and perhaps most importantly, his comfort with the unknown. And after a romantic wintery night at the campus observatory with Max, Celeste starts to wonder if being open to life's surprises is more important than knowing the answer to everything.

Under Salt Marsh is a crime thriller set in the fictional Welsh coastal town of Morfa Halen. It follows a pair of detectives and a small community rocked by an apparent accidental drowning. Set in a stunning landscape where the mountains meet the fast encroaching sea, the community rocked by an apparent accidental drowning. Set in a stunning landscape where the mountains meet the fast encroaching sea, the small Welsh town of Morfa Halen is a vibrant place peppered with love, passion, humour and acts of kindness. The death sends shockwaves through a community still marked by the disappearance of one of its inhabitants three years ago, a disappearance which remains unexplained to this day. Our detectives and the wider community must reckon with the idea that the two cases are linked and that a killer walks amongst them. With only a narrow window of time before a once-in-a-generation storm hits the community, washing away all evidence, the pressure is on to solve the case. (August 5 - December 2, 2024)

In his 40s, Aaron Tealey (McGraw) is an honest-to-God Texas hero, a cocksure rodeo star who wears a championship belt buckle for bull riding — but his body is a mess, a partly-mended sack of broken bones that threatens to go ragdoll every time he rides — a bull, a golf cart, anything. Gloria Soto is a teenage girl who could take away Aaron's belt buckle and his legend — one of these days, with proper mentoring, if she doesn't get herself killed. Naomi Soto, Gloria's mother, wants her daughter to stick to algebra and chemistry and stay far away from the rodeo ring (it should be called The Fool Killer). Two questions will be answered soon: 1. Which way will Gloria jump? 2. How hard will Aaron land?

Vee has talent and the drive to become a real star. To make her dream become a reality, she's leaving home in Transylvania to attend a prestigious music school in America — which poses a few challenges considering Vee is a vampire. Keeping her secret is one thing, and avoiding members of the Van Helsing family is another, but proving her skills at a school full of artists is another challenge entirely. With the help of some new friends and her annoyingly protective ghost Demi, Vee is ready to take on the world. (aka "VAMPIRINA")

Vampirates is a colorful extravaganza with a wildly eccentric cast and lashings of swashbuckling adventure, punctuated with horror and old-school romance. Conor and Grace are twins, recently orphaned after their widowed father's death. Rather than being adopted by the town's busy-bodies, they decide to set sail for new pastures in their father's last single possession, his sailboat. But a vicious storm capsizes their boat, and the twins are separated. Two mysterious ships sail to their rescue, each picking up one twin before disappearing into the mist. Conor wakes to find himself on a pirate ship and is soon being trained up with a cutlass. Meanwhile, Grace finds herself locked in a darkened room, as the vampirates wait for night to fall and their feasting to begin. Determined to find each other, yet intrigued by their new shipmates, the twins are about to embark on the biggest adventure of their life.

Fifth grade was the worst year of Marc's life. He stunk at gym class, math was too hard for him, the school lunch was horrible, and his class field trip was ruined because he couldn't swim. But what was the most awful thing about fifth grade? Kenny Williamson, the class bully, who called himself the "King of the Jungle". When Marc's mother tells him that his uncle Jake is coming to stay for the whole summer, Marc can't wait. Uncle Jake is a for-real super-cool Navy SEAL. And Uncle Jake has a plan. He's going to turn Marc into a warrior. Becoming a warrior isn't easy. It means a lot of pull-ups, sit-ups, push-ups, squats, swimming, eating right, and studying harder than ever before! Can Marc transform himself into a warrior before school starts in the fall - and finally stand up to the King of the Jungle himself?

This is a family series based on the bestselling novel by Janette Oke following the story of young schoolteacher Elizabeth Thatcher, who has just arrived in a 19th century coal mining town in the Western Frontier, worlds away from the wealthy, high-society life she grew up with. Elizabeth arrives in the aftermath of a mine explosion that claimed the lives of most of Coal Valley's men, leaving behind their widows — including kind-hearted Abigail Stanton who befriends Mountie Bill Avery, a forensic specialist who has been called to the town to help investigate the mining explosion. As Elizabeth adapts to the frontier lifestyle, she also warms up to handsome Constable Jack Thornton. (July 8 - October 29, 2024)

A crime-solving procedural with a comedic twist that follows the unlikely duo of a gruff, sardonic cop and a bubbly, clever con woman. Ellis, a demoted detective, has unfortunately spent the last year on Vancouver's marine unit (i.e., he's now a "water cop"), while Toni has been living a transient life elaborately scamming everyone she meets. But when Toni gets arrested and ends up helping Ellis solve a local crime, the two are offered the opportunity to redeem themselves, with Ellis going back to detective and Toni staying out of jail. The catch? They have to work together, with each using their unique skills to solve crimes. For Ellis, that means hard-boiled shoe leather police work; for Toni, it means accents, schemes, and generally befriending everyone in sight (while driving Ellis absolutely nuts). Against the backdrop of beautiful Vancouver — with all its unique, charming, and even contradictory neighborhoods and subcultures — the two will have to learn what it means to trust another person and maybe actually become partners.
