DOP: Giuseppe Riccobene

Pitch: His mother was a prostitute and a fortune teller predicted that she would give birth to a devil; the woman becomes pregnant by an unknown client but dies giving birth to a child that the other girls in the brothel name:

Judas. Judas is still a child when he kills the man who runs the brothel who tries to rape him. The boy then grows up quickly, the pain hardens him and transforms him into the protector of the place where he was born and raised: he gets rich by selling women. When a young man called Jesus saves Mary Magdalene (his sister but also one of his 'proteges') from being stoned, Judas is captivated, leaves everything and begins to follow that 'healer'. Judas the sinner, Judas the exploiter, Judas the pimp, is the last of the apostles to be called. The years of preaching and wandering of Jesus and his disciples follow, the years of an uninterrupted coexistence, of successes, of defeats, of triumphs, of fear.

DOP: Daniel Möller

Costume: Olesja Kisselmann, Annemarie Kögl

Pitch: In the centre of Berlin, teenagers Amina, Yunis, Lea, Pepe and Milo conquer an old skate park for themselves. The friends are a tight-knit clique that goes through thick and thin together and struggles with the problems of growing up: Amina is caught between her best friend Yunis and the obscure Ben, whose crew is constantly causing stress in the neighbourhood. Lea is questioning her professional career as a skater, Milo wants to find his own way in music and Pepe is demonstrating unexpected managerial qualities. Together, the group develops the unconditional will to defend "their" skate park against all odds. And so together they stand up for their place in society, for togetherness and for themselves as a group.
