Based on the true story of the Whittington brothers — Don, Bill, and Dale — all of whom were race car drivers who competed in the Indy 500 (Don and Bill even won at Le Mans). And yet the siblings saw even more action off the track, as they were also smuggling marijuana into the U.S. from South America with the help of a mysterious man known only as Bulletproof Jones. Two of the brothers were actually arrested as part of the IMSA drug smuggling scandal of the 1980s, in which several drivers were caught financing their racing activities with illegal profits from the drug trade.

With ailing family to support, Evie Sage's employment status isn't just important, it's vital. So when a mishap with Rennedawn's most infamous Villain results in a job offer—naturally, she says yes. No job is perfect, of course, but even less so when you develop a teeny crush on your terrifying, temperamental, and undeniably hot boss. Don't find evil so attractive, Evie. But just when she's getting used to severed heads suspended from the ceiling and the odd squish of an errant eyeball beneath her heel, Evie suspects this dungeon has a huge rat...and not just the literal kind. Because something rotten is growing in the kingdom of Rennedawn, and someone wants to take the Villain—and his entire nefarious empire—out. Now Evie must not only resist drooling over her boss but also figure out exactly who is sabotaging his work...and ensure he makes them pay.

Brian, a high school junior with a quick wit and a short temper, struggles with very public “freak-outs” that make social situations near impossible. His cooler older brother is a constant source of anger. His parents aren’t much help either. They regularly send him to a weekly therapist who listens to Brian vomit his feelings. It’s the worst kept secret in school that Brian is hopelessly in love with his teacher and is made fun of by his classmates for it. Brian’s life takes a turn when the new kid in school befriends him. Eager to find a new way to stand out, Brian decides to run for class president, with his new friend as campaign manager. The race for class president becomes more than just a campaign; it’s Brian’s path to self-discovery and acceptance. (November 23 – December 18, 2024)

In this darker reimagining of the classic Robin Hood tale, the titular character, now a battle-worn loner, grapples with his violent past. Gravely injured, Robin is taken in by Sister Brigid, a mysterious healer who offers him a chance at redemption. Meanwhile, a young girl disguised as a boy encounters a hermit who kills her when she tries to attack him. The hermit's old friend, Edward, seeks his help to reclaim his stolen farm. Together, they brutally eliminate the family occupying it, but Edward loses his wife in the battle. When the local warlord learns of Robin's presence, he attacks, leading to a fierce confrontation. Near death, Robin is taken to Sister Brigid's island for healing.

Debriefing the President is the story about a man's relentless quest for truth, a nation's complicated campaign for justice, and the bonds between fathers and sons. It tells, for the first time, the intimate story of two men at the heart of one of the 21st Century's most formative conflicts. In 2003, John Nixon (Kinnaman), a CIA analyst became the first American to positively identify and interrogate Saddam Hussein. During their time together, Nixon began to understand the potential consequences of the invasion, the humanitarian horrors and geopolitical turbulences that would follow Saddam's deposing.

The action thriller follows Major Billie Jean Parker (Ridley), a decorated Marine Corps commander who is relieved of duty after a high-stakes mission in the Philippines results in civilian casualties, despite capturing anarchist leader Omar Romatas. Facing the loss of her career, she visits her dying father, Clyde, a former Marine, who asks her to attend a dedication ceremony for a school building named in his honor. The event takes a deadly turn when Omar Romatas's vengeful son, Bento, launches an assault, taking hostages. Forced back into combat, Billie Jean sets traps and executes precise strikes to outwit the attackers. Her tactical instincts and ruthless efficiency shift the fight, as she confronts her past and proves her worth in a relentless battle that will define her legacy.

In Season 2 a deadly explosion in the heart of London shatters US Ambassador Kate Wyler's world (Russell). Struggling to rebuild the lives that broke and the team that split apart, Kate's worst fears unfold: The attack that brought her to the UK didn't come from a rival nation, it came from inside the British government. As Kate chases the truth, her only real ally is her almost-ex-husband Hal Wyler (Sewell), very much alive, and very much involved. She faces a fraught marriage, a complex dynamic with British Foreign Secretary Austin Dennison (Gyasi), and a threatening visit from Vice President Grace Penn (Janney). Dutch & Razzlekhan is the explosive and unbelievably true story of the most expensive heist in history, with Heather "Razzlekhan" Morgan (Moretz) and Ilya "Dutch" Lichtenstein (LaBelle) — lovers, hipsters, and aspiring rapper-entrepreneurs — at its center. After stealing over $4 billion worth of cryptocurrency, the millennial couple was caught by the Department of Justice and charged with conspiracy to launder the stolen bitcoin in February 2022. The pair were convicted the following year.

The comedy/horror, follows an eclectic but tight-knit family of filmmakers who suddenly find themselves in a real-life horror movie when a body turns up on the set of their latest low-budget slasher. As the production spirals comically out of control, they realize the only solution to keep filming is to cover up the murder, by any means necessary.

The film is set to tell the story of Samantha Lewthwaite (Ramsey), who became known as British terrorist 'The White Widow' and one of the world's most wanted women. Girl Next Door centers on Lewthwaite (Ramsey), who fell in love with Islam long before being Muslim was politicized and militarized and became known as 'The White Widow'. What began as teenage curiosity about an "exotic" and welcoming faith as embodied by her neighbors and best friend, ended with Samantha being consumed by its more radical fringes. We follow Sam in the days following the 7/7 attacks in London in 2005 as she pieces together the inevitable outcome of her husband's involvement, believing he is with another woman when his fate is clear to us all. Left contemplating her future as a grief-stricken mum of two, we imagine the events that may have led Sam to become an ideological crusader and wonder, how much she really knew about the 7/7 plot.

In The Good Daughter, sisters Charlotte and Samantha Quinn have spent the last twenty-eight years trying to piece together the lives that were fractured by a single night of violence. When another attack splinters the small town of Pikeville, Charlotte is the first witness on the scene. Now a lawyer like her father, she's forced to confront her own demons as the case twists through one shocking revelation after another. In the end, both she and Samantha find themselves wondering if the price of being the good daughter was worth it after all.

The drama follows four members of a suburban garden club — three of them played by Fumero, Robb and Rappaport — all from different walks of life, who get caught up in murder and mischief as they struggle to make their conventional lives bloom. Fumero plays Birdie. Entitled, rich, swathed in Chanel, a smoker, a drinker, self-destructive at times, toxic at others, but not without real pain beneath her facade, Birdie is a successful author whose memoir, Digging for Gold: Dancing Through Divorce, is a bestseller. Robb plays Alice, your favorite high school English teacher, a dreamer whose best dreams are crashing down on her. She's a longtime member of the Grosse Pointe Garden Society. Rappaport plays Brett. Cool in a threadbare kind of way, Brett put his own dreams of starting a car restoration business on hold so his wife (now ex-wife) could finish law school. He continues his job as a manager of a garden store so he can take care of the kids. (Early-November - Early-April 2025)

The story for the live-action film version of Gundam is being kept under wraps but the original Gundam series is set in the Universal Century, an era in which humanity's growing population has led people to emigrate to space colonies. Eventually, the people living in the colonies seek their autonomy, and launch a war of independence against the people living on Earth. Through the tragedies and discord arising from this human conflict, not only the maturation of the main character, but also the intentions of enemies and the surrounding people are sensitively depicted. The battles in the story, in which the characters pilot robots known as mobile suits, are wildly popular. The Gundam universe is replete with numerous story lines of love and conflict along with the popular Gundam battles, in which the characters operate robot suits called Mobile Suits.

With the most powerful clients in Europe, Guy Ritchie's The Associate will see family fortunes and reputations at risk, odd alliances unfold, and betrayal around every corner; and while the family might be London's most elite fixers today, the nature of their business means there is no guarantee what's in store tomorrow. The drama follows two generations of gangsters, the businesses they run, the complex relationships they weave, and the man they call upon to fix their problems. Hardy plays the role of Harry, the fixer, a man who is as dangerous as he is handsome; while Mirren and Brosnan would star as the crime family's matriarch and patriarch. Haru, a Japanese woman, and her husband, Luis, share a love that is too deep to put into words. Living in Tokyo, the two are also partners in ballroom dancing, a hobby of theirs, and their passion and intimacy expressed through dance is like a symphony. However, when Luis suddenly dies, Haru loses her purpose in life and is overcome with grief. Devastated by the complete loss of her beloved Luis, Haru loses her former vitality and radiance. Eventually, she even begins to see the ghost of Luis, and becomes even more withdrawn. Haru's sister, Yuki, and her best friend, Hiromi, try to encourage her to resume dancing, not to let her drown in her sorrow, and believe that expressing herself through physical movement will help her heal her emotional wounds. One day, Haru meets a new instructor, Fedya. To Haru, he seems like a ray of light in the darkness. As they build a deep bond through the language of dance, a passionate romance blossoms between them. As her feelings for Fedya flare up, the ghost of Luis appears, reminding her of her past love. Torn between nostalgia for days gone by and the allure of a future with Fedya, Haru finally finds the courage to follow her heart and forge her own path.

David and Alice Harper live a quiet life in their quaint home with their two young children. Their biggest loves are each other, their kids and the beautiful artworks they create. Alice enjoys expressing herself through her intricate and lifelike oil paintings while David found his calling in the preservation and reimagining of dead animals through his taxidermies. David, Alice and the kids enjoyed their Saturday hikes and Sunday morning breakfasts with Grandpa until a horrific car accident changed their lives forever. David begins to fear for his and his family's safety when his wife and son start to become increasingly hostile and aloof. Alice, unwilling to see a doctor, spends most of her time locked in her art studio working on a mysterious project. David finds solace only in the times when he is in his shop preserving the very animal that caused his family's tragic accident, the hare. However, unbeknownst to him, the reality of that fateful night is worse than David could have ever imagined. (November 28 - December 20, 2024)

In Holy Days, three quirky older nuns hit the road looking for miracles but end up learning to drive like demons instead. When the last of the sisters of St. Suzanne's face forced retirement, they take matters into their own hands. A last-minute dash to New Zealand's stunning South Island leads them to an ex-nun-turned-lawyer who can defend their rights. A young Māori boy jumps onboard to help, but has a secret mission of his own: to reach the peak of Mt. Cook, where he believes he'll find his recently deceased mother before she steps off into the spirit world. But things go terribly wrong when an unexpected snowstorm throws everyone off course, and this oddball group of friends faces their greatest challenge yet — mortality.

Millie's been living in her car for awhile after being let go from her most recent job. When a high paying job arises working for the Winchesters, Millie can hardly believe her luck when she's offered the job. All she has to do is keep the house clean, take care of the Winchesters' daughter Cecelia, and cook for them. It's not too bad considering how much she's being paid. Plus, she'll be able to finally sleep in a bed! However, things drastically take a turn for the worst on Millie's first day. Nina Winchester (Seyfried), the wife, is constantly berating Millie and leaving big messes for her. She's gaslighting Millie at every turn. Is there a method to Nina's madness or is Nina really out to get Millie? (January 3 - February 14, 2025)

Harry is wonderfully lovable: curious, cheeky, loyal, and intelligent. A great ball of love, fun and joy. Harry is a dog. He also just became an orphan. Ignoring everything of his owners' passing, for the first time in his life, he is home alone, at the onset of winter in the Canadian Rocky Mountains. As snow deepens in the world outside, he breaks out of the basement window to look for water and food, and to answer his curiosity. What he meets he has never seen before: a wolf. The last remaining member of a pack decimated by hunters. After initial fear and conflict, the domestic dog and the wild wolf start to show each other their worlds, learn from each other, and realize that they must co-operate to survive. Will they make it through the winter together, despite the extremes of nature and persecution by mankind? (January 27 - February 28, 2025)

Cole Franklin, an American mercenary, is recruited as a hired gun and guide at the remote outpost of Fort William, which is struggling to survive the decline of the fur trade. With dwindling supplies, the keepers of the Fort blackmail Cole into leading a trading party to a nearby Indigenous village where they discover a massacre and encounter the remaining half-crazed inhabitants for the bloodshed. Though the trading party survives with minimal losses and returns to the Fort with a bonanza of food and furs, the supernatural force responsible for the carnage follows them back. As the casualties stack up, it becomes evident that something unnatural is driving the residents insane with murderous hunger. The rag-tag band of survivors forces Cole to put his military expertise to use in organizing their last stand against what can only be described as some kind of madness.

Set on the brink of World War II in Berlin, the true story unfolds in a city turned into a powder keg after the assassination of a German attaché in Paris, which is wrongfully branded a "Jewish terrorist attack" by Nazi propaganda. Pettyfer plays Kai Lehmann, a young and impressionable police officer, who, alongside his superior Lieutenant Krützfeld, played by Owen, navigates the turbulent streets of Berlin as citizens turn violently against the perceived "enemy within," descending on Jewish neighborhoods. Markovics portrays Isaac Roth, a Jewish man caught up in the day's terror as he is wrongfully accused of murder. As chaos engulfs Berlin over a harrowing twenty-four hours, Krützfeld and Lehmann are confronted with a profound moral dilemma: uphold the system or take a stand for what is right. Kristallnacht translates as Night of Broken Glass, a reference to the thousands of shops, businesses and synagogues destroyed by the Nazis across the two nights in November 1938. Mala is a horror/mystery of the tantric possession of a young woman, Reema, who morphs into Mala, because of dark magic that her aunt and mother practiced as young girls, unbeknownst to her. Reema and her three close friends - Lola, Shiv, and Kalyan - arrive on a small island off the Florida Keys to claim her inherited beachside estate left to her by her late aunt, only to discover that secrets lurk behind the surface. Reema soon finds herself embroiled in a dark mystery and past connections, which she must unravel to realize who she really is. Tantra is an ancient form of magic that, if practiced right, can lead to a spiritual awakening, however, if practiced wrong it can lead to destruction.

Margo Millet's (Fanning) got money troubles. As the child of a Hooters waitress (Pfeiffer) and an ex-pro wrestler (Offerman), she's always known she'd have to make it on her own. So she enrolls at her local junior college, even though she can't imagine how she'll ever make a living. She's still figuring things out and never planned to have an affair with her English professor—and while their affair is brief, it isn't brief enough to keep her from getting pregnant. Despite everyone's advice, she decides to keep the baby, mostly out of naiveté and a yearning for something bigger. Now, at twenty, Margo is alone with an infant, unemployed, and on the verge of eviction. She needs a cash infusion—fast. When her estranged father, Jinx, shows up on her doorstep and asks to move in with her, she agrees in exchange for help with childcare. Then Margo begins to form a plan: she'll start an OnlyFans as an experiment, and soon finds herself adapting some of Jinx's advice from the world of wrestling. Like how to craft a compelling character and make your audience fall in love with you. Before she knows it, she's turned it into a runaway success. Could this be the answer to all of Margo's problems, or does internet fame come with too high a price? (February 3 - May 30, 2025 | w/t "MAYHEM")

Mayor of Kingstown follows the McLusky family – power brokers in Kingstown, Michigan where the business of incarceration is the only thriving industry. Tackling themes of systemic racism, corruption and inequality, the series provides a stark look at their attempt to bring order and justice to a town that has neither. Wiest will play Miriam, the McLusky family matriarch who teaches at the Kingstown Women's Prison. Renner plays her son and the series' title character, Mike McLusky, the Mayor of Kingstown. Melody, a California teenager whose mother has recently passed away, suddenly discovers at the age of 13 the existence of her father, Mickael, who had been entirely unaware that he had a daughter. This delicate situation is further complicated by the fact that Mickael lives a Robinson-Crusoe-like existence deep in the Canadian forest. A fiercely devoted anti-bear hunting activist, he runs a rehabilitation center for orphaned cubs. Needless to say their encounter is anything but smooth. However, everything quickly changes for Melody when she falls head-over-heels for a recently orphaned bear cub that she names "Heaven." And this cub is truly a special and rare one – for Heaven is a Kermode, or Spirit Bear, of which there are only 400 left in the world, and considered to be magical creatures by the Kitsoo First Nation peoples. The two motherless beings share with one another a mutual pain of loss and mourning. As a result, they become inseparable. And so despite Melody's conflictual relationship with her father, she decides to stay in the forest for the summer break with him and his fiancée Aayla who belongs to the Kitsoo First Nation and becomes a precious mentor and guide for Melody. Melody joins her father's battle to prohibit bear hunting and the two clumsily try to learn how to get along. A trying task for Mickael, who communicates better with bear cubs than with his daughter. But when the life of his daughter and the bear are threatened, Mickael will do everything it takes to save his daughter. (8 weeks of filming April 2025 - June 2025 and then resume filming in May 2026 for 3 weeks.)

Jack, a 28-year-old assistant plumber in New York, scrapes by financially while caring for his father, who suffers from dementia. One night, he receives a shocking call: his estranged, homeless brother Patrick is dead—and his eyes were gruesomely removed. Determined to find out what happened, Jack ventures underground, following one of Patrick's friends, Edwin, through deep, abandoned subway tunnels. When Edwin is brutally attacked by savage "mole people," Jack barely escapes and discovers a woman held hostage. Warned by another friend to flee the city, Jack must decide: keep his promise to rescue her or stay safe from a deadly underground threat.

Neuromancer, takes place in the near future in a cyberpunk setting. Cyberpunk is a genre that focuses on future societies where technology has advanced, but crime and corruption have as well. Common features include globe-spanning mega-corporations, cybernetically enhanced mercenaries, and the importance of technology as a tool for crime. The story follows the experiences of Case (Turner), an out-of-work hacker who is contacted by a mysterious new employer called Armitage. Along with Molly, a mercenary cyborg, and a thief/illusionist named Peter Riviera, Case participates in a series of data thefts for their employer. Their first job has them stealing an electronic copy of the mind of McCoy Pauley, a brilliant hacker who taught Case a great deal of what he knows. They steal this electronic mind to help them in performing their next job. After that, the group must head to Freeside, an enormous space habitat in orbit around Earth. Freeside serves as a luxury resort and casino for the wealthy, and it is also the location of Villa Straylight, the home of the incredibly wealthy and powerful Tessier-Ashpool family. The group's second job is to break into the Villa Straylight and hack into Wintermute, a powerful artificial intelligence created by the Tessier-Ashpool family. In the end, it turns out that Wintermute itself was behind the whole scheme. Government regulations put careful restrictions on artificial intelligences to prevent them from getting out of hand, and Wintermute was using Armitage and his team to break those restrictions. This allows Wintermute to merge with another A.I. called Neuromancer, becoming a new, more powerful electronic being. (w/t "ICEBREAKER")

Based around an annual event in Enid, Oklahoma, “The One” is an inspirational Holiday film about Hawk, a Native American foster teen who ages out of the system and uses his train ticket out of Chicago to see the lighting of the tallest Christmas Tree in the United States. Hawk suffers from undiagnosed PTSD, separation anxiety, and lack of any Native culture from growing up in so many different homes. While waiting for the lighting of the tree, he crosses paths with Jefferson, a train attendant that shows Hawk around town, and more importantly, where to get free food. While Hawk is playing his guitar on the tracks, he runs into runaway teen, Alexis, who is grieving the loss of her twin sister. The two reminisce about Hawk's Foster life, discuss the existence of God, and dodge her family who is frantically searching for her. Together they find a look-out spot to watch the lighting, but things don't turn out as Hawk planned. The film is strewn with surprise comedic characters and twists and turns that will not only open eyes to the plight of the Foster system, but also remind us that it is never too late...whatever that may mean for you. A comedy-drama set in a small-town cinema during one eventful Friday night screening from hell. Over the course of one evening, the film follows the travails of beleaguered cinema owner Earl Clancy (Morgan) as he faces a myriad of disasters, any one of which could sink him. Drawing from writer/director David Gleeson's own experience growing up in a family of cinema owners where his father's 78-year career marked the longest in the cinema business in Ireland, if not the world, One Night Only is a love letter to a peculiarly Irish cinema experience, which was as much about connecting with people as it was about the movie.

Gabe (Sulkin) and Daniela (Toubia), once blissfully married, signed a "Pet-Nup" to decide the custody of their beloved Pomeranian, Mipsy, in case things went south. And, of course, they did. Now divorced, Gabe gets Mipsy only half of the time, and those days are the highlight of his life. While Daniela has moved on with her new, uber-wealthy boyfriend, Gabe's world turns upside down when Mipsy falls for Neon, a hunky Pomeranian, and Gabe finds himself head-over-heels for Neon's even cuter owner, Abbey (Sage). When Abbey casually mentions she'd never share custody of Neon, Gabe panics and fibs about having Mipsy full-time. As the lie quickly spins out of control, Gabe's buddies hatch a wild plan: steal his own dog.

The film is loosely exploring an acclaimed Grammy award winning artists real life experiences and real people, the strong friendships and relationships he relied on and was shaped by, the sometimes-painful emotions and experiences he went through, the power of creativity and connection, and ultimately the beauty and meaning that comes as we live in full expression. This project is a free form, non-traditional narrative movie, with real and surreal elements. (October 24 - December 20, 2024)

A comedy based on the rivalry between 1800s thespians Edwin Forrest and William MacCready. The Players, is set in 1847 New York, where Edwin Forrest (Reilly) holds the undisputed title as the country's top Shakespearian actor. Playing magnificently to a sold out, raucous crowd every night, Edwin is “The Star”. But when critically celebrated English thespian William MacCready (Coogan) arrives from London to perform his sophisticated Hamlet, Edwin's title is thrown into jeopardy. Each man wants what the other has, and the rivalry between them starts a hilarious and unforgettable battle of egos. (Principal photography is set to begin early next year in Europe.)

A retired CIA operative in small-town Maine tackles the ghosts of her past. Former spy Maggie Bird came to the seaside village of Purity, Maine, eager to put the past behind her after a mission went tragically wrong. These days, she's living quietly on her chicken farm, still wary of blowback from the events that forced her early retirement. But when a body turns up in Maggie's driveway, she knows it's a message from former foes who haven't forgotten her. Maggie turns to her local circle of old friends—all retirees from the CIA—to help uncover the truth about who is trying to kill her, and why. This “Martini Club” of former spies may be retired, but they still have a few useful skills that they're eager to use again, if only to spice up their rather sedate new lives. Complicating their efforts is Purity's acting police chief, Jo Thibodeau. More accustomed to dealing with rowdy tourists than homicide, Jo is puzzled by Maggie's reluctance to share information—and by her odd circle of friends, who seem to be a step ahead of her at every turn. As Jo's investigation collides with the Martini Club's maneuvers, Maggie's hunt for answers will force her to revisit a clandestine career that spanned the globe, from Bangkok to Istanbul, from London to Malta. The ghosts of her past have returned, but with the help of her friends—and the reluctant Jo Thibodeau—Maggie might just be able to save the life she's built.

Simone has just moved into her new home after leaving her husband. She is excited about creating a life that reflects her true self—the life she has always wanted but never pursued to “fit in.” However, she soon discovers that changing her lifestyle is more complicated than she initially imagined. She has to deal with Clara, her preteen daughter who is struggling with the separation, her new profession as a tarot reader, which doesn't bring in enough money, her ex who is happily with another woman, and her own sexual blockages. On top of all this, she experiences signs from the invisible realm, with spirits visiting her—starting with Suzanne, her deceased aunt who loves to give her advice—and her highly colorful tarot clientele, which mirrors her own life. Fortunately, her best friend and drag queen Vicente is there to support her. (April 7 - May 9, 2025)

 Twilight Of The Dead forms the posthumous conclusion of George A. Romero's horror franchise, which began in 1968 with Night Of The Living Dead. In this last of a total of seven films, all that's left of humanity is the female protagonist (The Woman) and the eight-year-old girl (The Girl) who was rescued from her mutated mother at birth. After years of odyssey on a yacht with no human contact, the two end up on a tropical island where two communities have evolved: a male-dominated, voraciously aggressive community and an evolved, matriarchally organized, peaceful community that respects life. Humanity's last stand takes place on this idyllic island with unexpected results.

Murphy will star as Parliament-Funkadelic leader George Clinton. The biopic is the untold story of influential pioneer of funk and his tumultuous journey to founding musical collective Parliament-Funkadelic. Known for their outlandish sci-fi themes, surreal sounds, and psychedelic shows, Clinton and his band's wild road redefined music and culture.

Vee has talent and the drive to become a real star. To make her dream become a reality, she's leaving home in Transylvania to attend a prestigious music school in America – which poses a few challenges considering Vee is a vampire. Keeping her secret is one thing, and avoiding members of the Van Helsing family is another, but proving her skills at a school full of artists is another challenge entirely. With the help of some new friends and her annoyingly protective ghost Demi, Vee is ready to take on the world.

In the year of our Lord 1858, a young, unusual governess named Winifred Notty (Qualley) arrives at the stunning gothic manor known as Ensor House. Winifred's responsibilities include teaching the children table manners and educating them about their family's history, all whilst hiding her psychopathic tendencies. Winifred assimilates into life at Ensor House, but as staff members begin to inexplicably disappear, the owners of the estate begin to wonder if there is something amiss with their new governess. Adorned with violent outbursts and impressive bloodbaths, the audience is left asking...who wouldn't go mad in Victorian society?

It centers around Melinda Monroe, who answers an ad to work as a nurse practitioner in the remote California town of Virgin River thinking it will be the perfect place to start fresh and leave her painful memories behind. But she soon discovers that small-town living isn't quite as simple as she expected and that she must learn to heal herself before she can truly make Virgin River her home.

Season Five of Virgin River features surprising new relationships, a shocking break-up, a difficult court trial, a heartbreaking goodbye, and a wildfire that threatens the town, bringing some people of Virgin River together while tearing others apart. Issues of motherhood push Mel to make a big decision about her future at the clinic while her pregnancy unexpectedly sparks an emotional connection to her past. To further prove himself to Mel, Jack squares off with some long-overdue confrontations—with his own demons, and of course, Charmaine. And as Doc and Hope's respective impairments throw their identities into question, the doctor and the mayor must find solace in their community, in their young new family, and in each other.

When young orphan Heathcliff (Elordi) is adopted by a wealthy gentleman, he quickly forms a close bond with his benefactor's daughter, Cathy (Robbie). But over the years, their childhood friendship morphs into a desperate, twisted, possessive love, as they wrestle with the violent and tyrannical rule of Cathy's brother and the confines of social class that keep them apart. What follows is an ingenious and darkly captivating narrative of frustrated passion and tortured heartbreak reverberating through the generations, wrought with all the brutality, power, and wildness of the Yorkshire moors.

Follows in the footsteps of Bouchra, who was raised in a mausoleum dedicated to the saint Sidi Sardi and who is faced with a hostile imam who wants to turn the family home into a mosque. Her life is transformed when she meets Ahmed, a cameraman who wants to help her make a film about the saint. This project sees her immersed in a fascinating investigation, a saga exploring Tunisia and the 20th century which shakes her deepest inner convictions. It's an initiation into love, myths and cinema.

A movie about The Bee Gees, the trio whose worldwide sales of over 220 million records established them as one of the biggest selling groups of all time. While Barry, Robin and Maurice Gibb first began performing together in the late 1950s, much of their popularity came after they wrote songs for Saturday Night Fever that prolonged the popularity of disco and led to one of the top selling albums ever. Barry, Robin and Maurice began singing together as a pop music group formed in 1958. Their first rush of fame came after their father got a tape of their music to Beatles manager Brian Epstein, who passed it along to colleague Robert Stigwood, who became a steady figure in their rise. Back then, Robin Gibb's vibrato lead vocals drove hits like Lonely Days and How Can You Mend a Broken Heart. The trio found themselves in a career rut with the onset of disco that put pop in a corner, when Stigwood brought them in to construct a soundtrack around Saturday Night Fever. (aka "HOW CAN YOU MEND A BROKEN HEART?")

Simone has just moved into her new home after leaving her husband. She is excited about creating a life that reflects her true self—the life she has always wanted but never pursued to “fit in.” However, she soon discovers that changing her lifestyle is more complicated than she initially imagined. She has to deal with Clara, her preteen daughter who is struggling with the separation, her new profession, which doesn’t bring in enough money, her ex who is happily with another woman, and her own sexual blockages. On top of all this, she experiences signs from the invisible realm, with spirits visiting her—starting with Suzanne, her deceased aunt who loves to give her advice—and her highly colorful clientele, which mirrors her own life. Fortunately, her best friend and drag queen Vicente is there to support her.
