After the Flood is a mystery thriller set in a town hit by a devastating flood. When an unidentified man is found dead in a lift in an underground car park police assume he became trapped as the waters rose, and as the investigation unfolds PC Joanna Marshall, played by Rundle, becomes obsessed with discovering what happened to him. How did he get in the lift and why does no one know who he is? The mystery unfolds across the series while we also see the real impact of climate change on the lives of residents in this small town. The floods threaten to expose secrets, and fortunes and reputations are at stake. But how far will people go to protect themselves?

All Creatures Great and Small centers on the story of James Herriot (Ralph), a young country veterinarian who, fresh out of Glasgow Veterinary College, follows his dream to become a vet in the magnificent Yorkshire Dales. He soon discovers that treating the animals is as much about treating their owners, and the Dales' farmers are a tough crowd to please. At Skeldale House, James gets to know his newly formed dysfunctional family: his chaotic and erratic boss Siegfried Farnon (West), his wayward brother Tristan (Woodhouse) and the shrewd housekeeper Mrs Hall (Madeley) who is endlessly steering the ship. When local farmer's daughter Helen Alderson (Shenton) attracts James' attention he finds another, more enduring reason to stay in the Dales.

A character drama set in 1850s Australia. It is a well-known and much-loved story, with a twist. Exploring the adult double life of Charles Dickens' famous prince of thieves – Dodger – now a surgeon, but who can't shake his predilection for crime. The inspiration for two of his most famous characters, Fagin and Jack Dawkins aka The Artful Dodger, were transported to Australia for their crimes. The series takes place 15 years on from the events of Oliver Twist and is set in the frontier colonies of 1850s Australia. From high-octane heists to life-and-death surgeries, glittering parties to colorful streets, this series is a rock'n'roll tale about the double life of Dickens' most famous prince of thieves with an Aussie connection.

Alma, a young French woman with a secret past, has found peace as a surf instructor in beautiful Essaouira, Morocco. She shares her life with Ilias, a local police officer investigating the powerful Khoury crime family. When Ilias is shot and left in a coma, Alma must reconnect with her former identity as BADH, a ruthless intelligence operative and skilled assassin. She brutally eliminates members of the Khoury family one by one, unleashing the fury of their leader Mansour, only to discover that Mansour is working with Joana, her former secret service unit officer. Now BADH is engaged in a deadly chase across the country, leading to a spectacular face-off in Casablanca. There is no limit to how far she'll go to protect the man she loves.

When hired to provide in-home end-of-life care for an elderly woman, hospice nurse Julia finds herself staying at a remote cabin. Adriana, her patient, has severe dementia and caring for her isn't easy. It's all made worse when Adriana's ex-husband Randall shows up demanding to be let in. Randall and his sons soon lay siege to the house, Julia unable to escape, as they claim something ancient and evil is trapped inside with her. She stumbles across old film footage of a Young Adriana and Young Randall discovering an ancient sacrificial cave site in France. As Adriana's behavior grows wilder and more dangerous, Julia comes to realize Randall is right. The couple brought something back with them from that cave, something dark and hungry that has now possessed Adriana. Randall and his crew break into the house to perform an exorcism, but Adriana is too much for them and begins a gruesome slaughter. Julia is forced to piece together Adriana's past and re-discover the ritual the old woman had concocted to banish the evil for good.

A stunning, atmospheric police procedural set against the grit of Inverness and the raw beauty of the Scottish Highlands. Sixteen-year-old Robert arrives home late. Without a word to his dad, he goes up to his bedroom. Robert is never seen alive again. A body is soon found on the coast of the Scottish Highlands. Detective Inspector Monica Kennedy stands by the victim in this starkly beautiful and remote landscape. Instinct tells her the case won't begin and end with this one death. Meanwhile, Inverness-based social worker Michael Bach is worried about one of his clients whose last correspondence was a single ambiguous text message; Nichol Morgan has been missing for seven days. As Monica is faced with catching a murderer who has been meticulously watching and waiting, Michael keeps searching for Nichol, desperate to find him before the killer claims another victim. In this darker reimagining of the classic Robin Hood tale, the titular character, now a battle-worn loner, grapples with his violent past. Gravely injured, Robin is taken in by Sister Brigid, a mysterious healer who offers him a chance at redemption. Meanwhile, a young girl disguised as a boy encounters a hermit who kills her when she tries to attack him. The hermit's old friend, Edward, seeks his help to reclaim his stolen farm. Together, they brutally eliminate the family occupying it, but Edward loses his wife in the battle. When the local warlord learns of Robin's presence, he attacks, leading to a fierce confrontation. Near death, Robin is taken to Sister Brigid's island for healing.

Debriefing the President is the story about a man's relentless quest for truth, a nation's complicated campaign for justice, and the bonds between fathers and sons. It tells, for the first time, the intimate story of two men at the heart of one of the 21st Century's most formative conflicts. In 2003, John Nixon (Kinnaman), a CIA analyst became the first American to positively identify and interrogate Saddam Hussein. During their time together, Nixon began to understand the potential consequences of the invasion, the humanitarian horrors and geopolitical turbulences that would follow Saddam's deposing. Set in Glasgow, series one of Dinosaur followed Nina (Ashley Storrie), an autistic woman in her 30s who adored her life living with her sister and best friend Evie. However, when Evie rushed into an engagement after only six weeks and made Nina her maid of honor, Nina was floored. Forced to reconcile with her sister's impulsive decision, Nina grappled with what this new challenge meant, which led to a surprising journey of self-discovery, saw her explore her own love interest and consider a move away from her hometown for a job promotion. At its core, Dinosaur is a series about sisterhood, love, friendship and being yourself, no matter how uncomfortable that might make others.

Meet Lance Dunkquist (Efron). 38-years-old. Works a meaningless job. Still lives above his parents' garage. By all accounts, a world-class loser. Except for one glaring exception. He has a million-dollar face. Lance has been mistaken twenty-eight times for the Oscar-winning movie star, James Jansen (Efron), and for the last 10 years, he's saved his money, studied Jansen's films, his moves, his idiosyncrasies, even the way he speaks. Now, after an unceremonious termination from his job, Lance has decided that the time has come to go after his dream. From New York's ridiculous avant-garde, off-off Broadway scene, to the surreal glitter of Los Angeles, follow Lance on his madcap journey of self-abandonment to become his likeness. Part comedy, part human tragedy, and part suspense, the world through the eyes of Lancelot Blue Dunkquist is like none you've ever seen.

The drama opens with Roy Grace's career at rock bottom. He's fixated by the disappearance of his wife, Sandy, which haunts his thoughts. He's in the last chance saloon running enquiries into long forgotten cold cases with little prospect of success. Following another reprimand for his unorthodox police methods, Grace is walking a career tightrope and risks being moved from the job he loves most. With so much at stake, his colleague Detective Sergeant Glenn Branson knows he has more to give and asks him for help with a case. When a stag night prank appears to go wrong and the groom goes missing, Branson calls upon Grace to unravel events that led to the mysterious disappearance three days before his wedding to his beautiful fiancé. A successful property developer with everything to live for, there is no trace of the missing groom. Is this a case of stag night shenanigans gone badly awry? Or is this something more sinister? With nothing but instinct, a lingering suspicion and his obsessive nature, Grace doggedly pursues the groom's disappearance and becomes uneasily close to the bride to be.

Based on Brian Schwartz's true story, the story will explore his journey from corporate executive to a beacon of hope, as he selflessly mowed lawns for seniors, veterans, and the disabled during the Covid-19 pandemic and started a national movement. In early 2020, when Schwartz faced the daunting challenge of unemployment after being let go from his advertising job, he found himself navigating a whirlwind of personal crises: his wife's pregnancy and his father's terminal brain cancer diagnosis. Initially seeking solace in mowing his own lawn, he then began mowing others' — free of charge — for neighbors in need. Schwartz's goodwill quickly evolved into a grassroots movement that transformed countless lives across New Jersey and beyond. After gaining recognition through local news and national coverage — including features in The Washington Post and appearances on The Drew Barrymore Show — Schwartz inspired a “green army” of volunteers, comprised of fellow laid-off individuals, retirees, and those seeking purpose during a difficult time. With over 1000 enlisted, his movement not only beautified neighborhoods but also fostered a sense of community and belonging. The film will delve into Schwartz's transformation, capturing the emotional depth of his experiences and the evolution of his relationship with his father. Their journey unfolds against the backdrop of Schwartz's altruistic mission, illustrating how the bonds of family can be mended through shared hardship and personal growth.

Based on the life of Muhammad Ali. Growing up in the South, surrounded by racial bigotry and discrimination, Ali fought not just for a living, but also for respect and rewards far more precious than money or glory. He was named Sportsman of the Century by Sports Illustrated and the BBC. Ali redefined what it meant to be an athlete by giving hope to millions around the world and inspiring us all to fight for what is important to us. This is a multifaceted portrait of Muhammad Ali only he could render: sports legend, unapologetic anti-war advocate, outrageous showman and gracious goodwill ambassador, fighter, lover, poet, and provocateur, and an irresistible force to be reckoned with.

A twisty, youthful noir thriller set in Glasgow, The Grip is a contemporary tale played out in a heightened world of razor sharp dialogue and grey morality. All the noir elements are here, obsession, desire, fate, all the classic characters, visual keys and thematic threads, but reimagined, remade to explore one central question – will the youth of today cave in to conformity, or turn the world on its head?

The drama follows four members of a suburban garden club — three of them played by Fumero, Robb and Rappaport — all from different walks of life, who get caught up in murder and mischief as they struggle to make their conventional lives bloom. Fumero plays Birdie. Entitled, rich, swathed in Chanel, a smoker, a drinker, self-destructive at times, toxic at others, but not without real pain beneath her facade, Birdie is a successful author whose memoir, Digging for Gold: Dancing Through Divorce, is a bestseller. Robb plays Alice, your favorite high school English teacher, a dreamer whose best dreams are crashing down on her. She’s a longtime member of the Grosse Pointe Garden Society. Rappaport plays Brett. Cool in a threadbare kind of way, Brett put his own dreams of starting a car restoration business on hold so his wife (now ex-wife) could finish law school. He continues his job as a manager of a garden store so he can take care of the kids. (November 6 - April 7, 2025)

Rose Paulson and her friends steal a hex sign from an Amish barn in Elkhart County, IN. After the sign is accidentally broken it releases a curse put on the town by a witch burnt at the stake in the early 1700s. When townspeople begin dying violent and mysterious deaths, including the Grandmother who raised her, Rose turns to a teenage Amish boy named Isaac for help. As the witch and her curse grows stronger, so too does the attraction between the two teens. Together they race against time to stop the deadly spell. In the end, it is a love greater than any evil that breaks the curse and leaves everyone's lives changed forever.

It's the most wonderful time of the year...but not for Maelyn Jones. She's living with her parents, hates her going-nowhere job, and has just made a romantic error of epic proportions. But perhaps worst of all, this is the last Christmas Mae will be at her favorite place in the world—the snowy Utah cabin where she and her family have spent every holiday since she was born, along with two other beloved families. Mentally melting down as she drives away from the cabin for the final time, Mae throws out what she thinks is a simple plea to the universe: Please. Show me what will make me happy. The next thing she knows, tires screech and metal collides, everything goes black. But when Mae gasps awake...she's on an airplane bound for Utah, where she begins the same holiday all over again. With one hilarious disaster after another sending her back to the plane, Mae must figure out how to break free of the strange time loop—and finally get her true love under the mistletoe.

Glory Boughton, in her late thirties, returns to her childhood home in the small town of Gilead, Iowa, to care for her ailing father, Reverend Boughton. She is grappling with her own disappointment over a failed engagement and a sense of purposelessness. Shortly after her arrival, her wayward brother, Jack Boughton, returns as well after a twenty-year absence. Jack is the prodigal son of the family—a charming but troubled man with a history of alcoholism and a mysterious life away from home. As Jack and Glory care for their father, tensions arise from past hurts and unspoken truths. Jack struggles with guilt, faith, and a sense of alienation, feeling unwelcome in both his family and the religious community. Glory, meanwhile, wrestles with her deep love for her brother and her frustration over his inability to fit into the family's expectations.

David Burroughs was once a devoted father to his three-year-old son Matthew, living a dream life just a short drive away from the working-class suburb where he and his wife, Cheryl, first fell in love—until one fateful night when David woke to discover Matthew had been murdered while David was asleep just down the hall. Half a decade later, David's been wrongly accused and convicted of the murder, left to serve out his time in a maximum-security prison—a fate which, grieving and wracked with guilt, David didn't have the will to fight. The world has moved on without him. Then Cheryl's younger sister, Rachel, makes a surprise appearance during visiting hours bearing a strange photograph . . . in the background, just barely in frame, is a boy bearing an eerie resemblance to David's son. David just knows: Matthew is still alive. David plans a harrowing escape, determined to achieve the impossible—save his son, clear his own name, and discover the real story of what happened. But with his life on the line and the FBI following his every move, can David evade capture long enough to reveal the shocking truth?

The close bond between a teenage White sister and her adopted Black brother survives their harsh Christian fundamentalist home, bigoted community, and brutal reform school. Jesus Land is the true story of Julia Scheeres (Anderson) and her adopted Black brother David (Jones) who struggle to navigate their tumultuous childhood in their harsh Christian fundamentalist home and the surrounding bigoted community in 80's rural Indiana. When they rebel against their abusive parents, they are sent to a reform school in the Dominican Republic, where they are imprisoned in a compassionless world that preaches blind obedience over meaningful religious content. Throughout their ordeals they dream of a better life in a diverse, free environment. Within Jesus Land, themes of love, hope, loyalty, race, religion, and family are woven together, creating a narrative of depth and complexity.

When eldest son Roman Carruthers is summoned home after his father's car accident, he finds his younger brother, Dante, in debt to dangerous criminals and his sister, Neveah, exhausted from holding the family—and the family business—together. Neveah and their father, who run the Carruthers Crematorium in the run-down central Virginia town of Jefferson Run, see death up close every day. But mortality draws even closer when it becomes clear that the crash that landed their father in a coma was no accident and Dante's recklessness has placed them all in real danger. Roman, a financial whiz with a head for numbers and a talent for making his clients rich, has some money to help buy his brother out of trouble. But in his work with wannabe tough guys, he's forgotten that there are real gangsters out there. As his bargaining chips go up in smoke, Roman realizes that he has only one thing left to offer to save his brother: himself, and his own particular set of skills. Roman begins his work for the criminals while Neveah tries to uncover the long-ago mystery of what happened to their mother, who disappeared when they were teenagers. But Roman is far less of a pushover than the gangsters realize. He is willing to do anything to save his family. Anything.

Set on the brink of World War II in Berlin, the true story unfolds in a city turned into a powder keg after the assassination of a German attaché in Paris, which is wrongfully branded a “Jewish terrorist attack” by Nazi propaganda. Pettyfer plays Kai Lehmann, a young and impressionable police officer, who, alongside his superior Lieutenant Krützfeld, played by Owen, navigates the turbulent streets of Berlin as citizens turn violently against the perceived “enemy within,” descending on Jewish neighborhoods. Markovics portrays Isaac Roth, a Jewish man caught up in the day’s terror as he is wrongfully accused of murder. As chaos engulfs Berlin over a harrowing twenty-four hours, Krützfeld and Lehmann are confronted with a profound moral dilemma: uphold the system or take a stand for what is right. Kristallnacht translates as Night of Broken Glass, a reference to the thousands of shops, businesses and synagogues destroyed by the Nazis across the two nights in November 1938. A cargo ship embarks on its last journey of the year to supply the Inuit communities of Nunavik. The vessel is caught in a storm off the coast of Labrador. During the storm, a crew member is found murdered in his cabin. The police are unable to identify the culprit among the 20 crew members. Investigators suspect an Inuit mechanic close to the murdered crew member. He will be tried for a murder he did not commit. The film is loosely inspired by a news event that took place in Quebec in 2012, for which there were no charges or trial. (February 1 - March 31, 2025)

In the early 1990s, at the height of the international war on drugs, the government agency in charge of Britain's borders, Her Majesty's Customs and Excise, realized that they were losing the battle against drug smuggling. Their solution was extraordinary. In a top-secret operation, a small team of British Customs employees were sent undercover. Their task – to infiltrate Britain's most dangerous drug gangs. They were not trained spies. These were ordinary men and women, plucked from ordinary lives around the U.K, put through a basic training regime then told to build new identities in the criminal underworld. These identities were called Legends.

Margo Millet's (Fanning) got money troubles. As the child of a Hooters waitress (Pfeiffer) and an ex-pro wrestler (Offerman), she's always known she'd have to make it on her own. So she enrolls at her local junior college, even though she can't imagine how she'll ever make a living. She's still figuring things out and never planned to have an affair with her English professor—and while their affair is brief, it isn't brief enough to keep her from getting pregnant. Despite everyone's advice, she decides to keep the baby, mostly out of naiveté and a yearning for something bigger. Now, at twenty, Margo is alone with an infant, unemployed, and on the verge of eviction. She needs a cash infusion—fast. When her estranged father, Jinx, shows up on her doorstep and asks to move in with her, she agrees in exchange for help with childcare. Then Margo begins to form a plan: she'll start an OnlyFans as an experiment, and soon finds herself adapting some of Jinx's advice from the world of wrestling. Like how to craft a compelling character and make your audience fall in love with you. Before she knows it, she's turned it into a runaway success. Could this be the answer to all of Margo's problems, or does internet fame come with too high a price? (February 3 - May 30, 2025 | w/t "MAYHEM")

Paris, 1899. Celeste, a Cancan dancer in a Montmartre cabaret, desperately tries to find the brother and sister from whom she was brutally separated as a child when their father was murdered before their eyes. To be able to pay Leon, the inspector in charge of finding them, she has no choice but to dance naked. Celeste thus becomes the first stripper in Paris and causes a scandal in spite of herself. From show to show, as she becomes confident, a new life is offered to her but the demons of her past continue to catch up with her. Arsène, a young automotive engineer from the beautiful neighborhoods, is preparing to take over the reins of his father's factory. Promised to a good party and a well-mapped life, he does not resolve to honor a marriage of convenience when he secretly loves men. He then takes the risk of opposing his father and suddenly breaks his engagement, unaware that he will thus unearth a heavy secret upsetting all his certainties. Rose, a young laundress from the suburbs, very in love, is preparing to start a family with her fiancé. But his dream is short-lived when he actually leads her to a brothel where she is locked up. Rose manages to escape but, pursued by her pimp, she throws herself into the Marne and finds herself between life and death. None of our three heroes then knows that the blood ties connect them. None of them knows yet that everything is just beginning... and that their destiny remains to be written, together, under the sky of Montmartre. (November 2024 - March 2025)

Canon Daniel Clement is Rector of Champton. He has been there for eight years, living at the Rectory alongside his widowed mother - opinionated, fearless, ever-so-slightly annoying Audrey - and his two dachshunds, Cosmo and Hilda. When Daniel announces a plan to install a lavatory in church, the parish is suddenly (and unexpectedly) divided: as lines are drawn, long-buried secrets come dangerously close to destroying the apparent calm of the village. And then Anthony Bowness - cousin to Bernard de Fluores, patron of Champton - is found dead at the back of the church, stabbed in the neck with a pair of secateurs. As the police moves in and the bodies start piling up, Daniel is the only one who can try and keep his fractured community together... and catch a killer.

A drama series centered around the recent high profile murder trial in which Philip Polkinghorne was found not guilty or murdering his wife Pauline Hanna. Her 2021 death was framed as suicide by defense attorneys representing her husband, the eye surgeon Dr Polkinghorne, who was accused of her murder. The trial, which lasted eight weeks, brought wave after wave of salacious detail; that Polkinghorne had a methamphetamine habit, hired a sex worker and made sex tapes. One thing is for certain: Hanna was found dead at their home in a moneyed Auckland suburb.

A jukebox musical that tells the inspiring true story of Emilio and Gloria Estefan, two Cuban immigrants who launched themselves to international musical stardom from humble beginnings. Following Gloria's trajectory from her early days in Miami to her breakthrough as the lead singer of the Miami Sound Machine — a crossover artist, blending Latin and pop music — and ultimately, her triumphant return to the stage after a near-fatal accident. The musical delves into the challenges she faced as a young artist, including her struggles to balance her cultural identity, family expectations, and artistic ambitions, and at the same time explores her romantic relationship with Emilio.

Sex in the City goes middle-aged, mordant and slapstick in Bushnell's chronicle of writers, actors and Wall Street whizzes clashing at One Fifth Avenue, a Greenwich Village art deco jewel crammed with regal rich, tarty upstarts and misguided lovers. When a Queen of Society dies, a vicious scramble for her penthouse apartment ensues, and it's attorney Annalisa and her hedge-funder husband, Paul Rice, who land the palatial pad, roiling the building's rivalries. There's Billy Litchfield, an art dealer who slobbers over the wealthy; strivers Mindy and James Gooch, and their tech-savvy 13-year-old Sam, the most hilariously bitter (and strangely successful) family in the building; gossip columnist Enid Merle and her screenwriter nephew, Philip Oakland, who struggle to uphold traditions and their souls; actress Schiffer Diamond, who lands a hit TV series, and her old love; and Lola Fabrikant, a cunning Atlanta gold digger whose greatest ambition is to become Carrie Bradshaw. Here are bloggers and bullies, misfits and misanthropes, dear hearts and black-hearts, dogfights and catty squalls spun into a darkly humorous chick-lit saga. (aka "ONE FIFTH AVENUE")

At a secret desert base, a militia experiment-gone-wrong unleashes a platoon of killing machines who cannot be stopped until deactivated -- a feat that proves seemingly impossible as the "soldiers" leave a trail of bodies and mayhem in their wake. Arjona will play Celeste, a mother who falls back on a particular set of skills in order to protect her loved ones after she runs afoul of a threat that has escaped a secret military base.

Set in Moscow in 1977, the espionage thriller follows two "PONIES" ("persons of no interest" in intelligence speak) who work anonymously as secretaries in the American Embassy. That is until their husbands are killed under mysterious circumstances in the USSR, and the pair become CIA operatives. Bea (Clarke) is an over-educated, Russian-speaking child of Soviet immigrants. Her cohort, Twila, is a small-town girl who is as abrasive as she is fearless. Together, they work to uncover a vast Cold War conspiracy and solve the mystery that made them widows in the first place.

In 1844 Ireland, Liam O'Connor, a rogue and a thief, fell madly in love with a squire's daughter and unwittingly altered the future. Shy and naive Cora McLeod thought Liam was the answer to her prayers. But the angels disagreed and they've been waiting for the right moment in time to step in. Now Liam finds himself reunited with his beloved Cora in Providence Falls, North Carolina. The angels have given Liam a task. He must make sure Cora falls in love with another man—the one she was supposed to marry before Liam interfered. But this Cora is very different from the innocent girl who fell for Liam in the past. She's a cop and has a confidence and independence he wasn't expecting. She doesn't remember Liam or their past lives, nor is she impressed with his attempts to guide her in any way. Al Schwimmer, a decorated WWII veteran from Connecticut, played a pivotal role in Israel's survival by smuggling arms and planes to the nascent state in 1948. Amidst the aftermath of the Holocaust, Israel faced imminent attack from neighboring Arab countries, while the U.S. publicly refused military aid due to Cold War tensions. Schwimmer partnered with the Haganah, Israel's underground military, and orchestrated a daring operation to defy an American embargo, delivering 125 planes and over 50,000 weapons, many from Nazi-era stockpiles. This covert mission helped establish Israel's air superiority, securing its future. Schwimmer later surrendered, facing fines and loss of civil rights.

In Shiver, meet Sam. He's not just a normal boy--he has a secret. During the summer he walks and talks as a human, but when the cold comes, he runs with his pack as a wolf. Grace has spent years watching the wolves in the woods behind her house--but never dreamed that she would fall in love with one of them. Linger tells the story of Sam and Grace's struggle to stay together, and the dangerous secret Grace must keep from everyone, including her parents. In Forever, wolves are being hunted, which means the stakes are even higher for Grace and Sam and the wolf pack. With Sinner comes the long awaited story of Cole, a wolf wrestling with his own demons, and his attempt to win back Isabel Culper. For Grace, Sam, and Cole and Isabel, life is harrowing and euphoric, enticing and alarming. As their world falls apart, love is what lingers. But can it be enough?

Sister Lu is at her lowest point in life, a substance abuser who no longer believes in God. She ends up on a train ride to Rome with her abusive mentor, Father Novak (Mulroney) who is the Head Exorcist of their Catholic Church. On the train, a young backpacker is possessed by a powerful Demon who is hellbent on killing everyone onboard. The Demon takes over the train and plans on derailing it. Father Novak arrogantly steps in and attempts to exorcise the Demon from the backpacker's body. Father Novak is quickly and violently torn apart. All the passengers turn to Sister Lu to save them. She's not ready for this level of responsibility but eventually finds the courage and gains her belief back. She must use everything she learned from her mentor to defeat the Demon. Together with the help of a few brave passengers, Sister Lu confronts the Demon. The task is heavy and very intimidating for her, knowing that she has given up on her faith, but many lives are in her hands. So she digs deep, gathers the little faith she has left to face her own Demons, which gives her the courage to officially step up, and fight alongside everyone onboard the high-speed train. Father Novak is the Head Exorcist of the Catholic Church. He's a strict Stentorian priest who is cold and self-important. He treats Sister Lu like a lowly assistant. He's an old-school man who refuses to acknowledge the teachings of the New World. When the Demon presents itself on the runaway train, Father Novak arrogantly believes he will be able to defeat the creature swiftly. Things do not go as he expects them to.

Chronicling the exploits of daredevil stuntman Ken Carter. The Stunt Driver watches as "The Mad Canadian" Carter attempts to execute the boldest maneuver of his career during the 1970s, launching a rocket car off a 90-foot-high ramp across the St. Lawrence River. Covering a span of more than a mile, the stunt would have him jump from Canada into the United States. The film follows Carter's quest to make his seemingly impossible dream a reality, chronicling his preparation for the jump and the absurd challenges he faces along the way.

The new legal procedural would be a Suits universe series featuring new characters in a new location, Los Angeles is a backdrop considered for the workplace drama. Black Lane Law is one of the biggest independent law firms in America, headed by it's two powerful owners and their staff. Suits: L.A. is centered on Ted Black (Amell), a former federal prosecutor from New York, who has reinvented himself representing the most powerful clients in Los Angeles. His firm is at a crisis point, and to survive he must embrace a role he held in contempt his entire career. Ted is surrounded by a stellar group of characters who test their loyalties to both Ted and each other while they can't help but mix their personal and professional lives. All of this is going on while events from years ago slowly unravel leading Ted to leave behind everything and everyone he loved. (November 18 - April 21, 2025)

A bromance comedy about the dynamics of friendship and growing up. Guillén portrays Paul, that one friend we all have whose invitation for “one drink” seems harmless but the next thing you know, you’re drunk on a Tuesday, swaying in your kitchen eating dry top ramen out of the bag and wishing you hadn’t just sent that text. Henry (Brener) is just trying to have a romantic weekend in Palm Springs with his new girlfriend Penny (Lourd) until Paul crashes their trip. And when Paul’s pack of drug-laced cigarettes disappear into the hands of a stranger, the night really takes a turn.

Tulsa King follows New York mafia capo Dwight “The General” Manfredi (Stallone), who, as he’s released from prison after 25 years, is unceremoniously exiled by his boss to set up shop in Tulsa, Oklahoma. Realizing that his mob family may not have his best interests in mind, Dwight slowly builds a “crew” from a group of unlikely characters to help him establish a new criminal empire in a place that to him might as well be another planet. Casella will play Armand Truasi, an ambitious criminal operating under the patronage of the Invernizzi family. Lombardozi will play Charles “Chickie” Invernizzi, the underboss and de facto head of the Invernizzi Crime Family. Piazza will play Vince Antonacci, Chickie’s henchman. Will will play Tyson, a quick witted and eagle-eyed college graduate who acts tougher than he actually is and longs for a life far from his roots. (Two-season renewal.)

Joni Mitchell may be the most influential female recording artist and composer of the late twentieth century. A heart-wrenching story of how the blond girl with the guitar became a superstar of folk music in the 1960s, a key figure in the Laurel Canyon music scene of the 1970s, and the songwriter who spoke resonantly to, and for, audiences across the country. A Canadian prairie girl, a free-spirited artist, Mitchell never wanted to be a pop star. She was nothing more than "a painter derailed by circumstances," she would explain. And yet, she went on to become a talented self-taught musician and a brilliant bandleader, releasing album after album, each distinctly experimental, challenging, and revealing. Her lyrics captivated listeners with their perceptive language and naked emotion, born out of Mitchell's life, loves, complaints, and prophecies. As an artist whose work deftly balances narrative and musical complexity, she has been admired by such legendary lyricists as Bob Dylan and Leonard Cohen and beloved by such groundbreaking jazz musicians as Jaco Pastorius, Wayne Shorter, and Herbie Hancock. Her hits—from "Big Yellow Taxi" to "Both Sides, Now" to "A Case of You"—endure as timeless favorites, and her influence on the generations of singer-songwriters who would follow her, from her devoted fan Prince to Björk, is undeniable.

Lowen Ashleigh is a struggling writer on the brink of financial ruin when she accepts the job offer of a lifetime. Jeremy Crawford, husband of best-selling author Verity Crawford (Hathaway), has hired Lowen to complete the remaining books in a successful series his injured wife is unable to finish. Lowen arrives at the Crawford home, ready to sort through years of Verity's notes and outlines, hoping to find enough material to get her started. What Lowen doesn't expect to uncover in the chaotic office is an unfinished autobiography Verity never intended for anyone to read. Page after page of bone-chilling admissions, including Verity's recollection of the night their family was forever altered. Lowen decides to keep the manuscript hidden from Jeremy, knowing its contents would devastate the already grieving father. But as Lowen's feelings for Jeremy begin to intensify, she recognizes all the ways she could benefit if he were to read his wife's words. After all, no matter how devoted Jeremy is to his injured wife, a truth this horrifying would make it impossible for him to continue to love her. (February 2025 - April 2025)

Who's Vince Staples? Well, that's a tricky question. He's kind of famous, but he's not. He's kind of rich, but he's not. He's also kind of a criminal. But he's...not? Follow him on his daily adventures, where anything that can go wrong usually does. (January 22 - March 28, 2025)

Set in an era when glass ceilings were made of concrete, Bennett will play Katharine Hilbery — one woman who insisted on reaching for the stars. Based on what has been called Virginia Woolf's funniest novel, Night and Day is described as an "unromantic comedy" about a passionate astronomer who does everything she can to avoid romantic love and marriage. Contemporary in tone, the story of Katharine's bold challenge to the Edwardian patriarchy is set against the backdrop of the suffragette movement and advances in science and technology, at the turn of the 20th century.

When young orphan Heathcliff (Elordi) is adopted by a wealthy gentleman, he quickly forms a close bond with his benefactor's daughter, Cathy (Robbie). But over the years, their childhood friendship morphs into a desperate, twisted, possessive love, as they wrestle with the violent and tyrannical rule of Cathy's brother and the confines of social class that keep them apart. What follows is an ingenious and darkly captivating narrative of frustrated passion and tortured heartbreak reverberating through the generations, wrought with all the brutality, power, and wildness of the Yorkshire moors. Latif will play Edgar Linton, a well-to-do neighbor who falls in love and marries Catherine but must then contend with Heathcliff who returns to enact a revenge on the Catherine and the Earnshaws.
